

Ace Connector

Eliminate maintenance headaches and lost time and money caused by faulty connections with Nightscaping's® Ace Connector. The Ace Connector is a weatherproof, solid brass, direct burial connector and conductor. It is easy to install and provides a permanent connection you can depend on. The Ace Connector is available in two different sizes to accommodate both large and small gauges of cable.

Our in house production policy definitely includes the Ace Connector. They are being manufactured in our machine shop from solid brass rods on a computerized lathe (13.2m in size). This is the same machine we use to build finials and other fixture components.
